To the Class of '39:

As you complete your Senior year you may well feel proud of the accomplishments of your Class. Irrespective of occasional slips by some individuals your Class ranks high in citizenship. Some of your members rate very high in scholarship while others are outstanding in leadership. Many of you will no doubt enter institutions of higher learning, while others may become engaged in some form of commerical or industrial activity. But along whatever line you advance I am certain that you will be a credit to the CHENEY HIGH SCHOOL.

Dear Marcy

SOCIAL SCIENCE

American History is concerned with the growth and development of American institutions. The hope is that it will aid in the interpretation of our present day life; that it will inspire students with a greater respect for American institutions; that it will stimulate them as citizens to work out their problems in a way that will insure the preservation of the noblest and best American life.

World history explains how our modern world came to be what it is today. In it are to be found the immediate origins of the economic and political structure of today.

Commercial Geography gives students the understanding of marketing, production, and the interchange of commodities among the various countries. The study is carried out on an economic and social background.

MUSIC

Music offers wonderful opportunities for students participating in it. One credit is received for one year's work in band, orchestra, and glee club. The department cooperates in the productions given during the year, which are appreciated by all.

ART

The Art classes this year have done a great deal of creative art work, using a variety of mediums, such as oils, water-colors, pastels, charcoal, graphite, poster paints, and colored ink.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

This department has courses in woodwork and drawing for both beginners and advanced students. They also make signs and booths for various school activities and perform some repair of school equipment.

FARM SHOP

This is a course designed to prepare boys to do the mechanical work which is found on a farm. It is a part of the vocational agriculture course, but it is available to others as an Industrial Arts subject.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

The Future Farmers of America is the national organization of farm boys studying in the Smith-Hughes public high schools throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, and Hawaiian Islands.

Achievement of the individual is made the basis for advancement from rank to rank in the F. F. A. chapter. There are 45 boys enrolled in the Blackhawk (Cheney) chapter of the F. F. A.

COMMERCIAL

The Commercial department offers two years of shorthand and typing, and one year of bookkeeping.

Typing classes take care of the typing for all the departments of the school and for the various instructors. They also make dodgers, play programs, and many other special forms which are required throughout the year.

HOME ECONOMICS

Home Economics is a study of the problems and management of everyday life in the home. The course of Related Arts is a study of home decorations and the betterment of self.

Thanks for the typing you've done for me this year.
Ray Thiro

SCIENCE

Chemistry: The main purpose of this department is to introduce the science of Chemistry in many phases. This year special experiments have been carried out. The members of the two classes worked in small groups, choosing an experiment in some field of chemistry. Qualitative Analysis, another field of Inorganic Chemistry, was carried out by both classes.

Biology teaches one to observe accurately and develops the ability to think and reason correctly. It is the science of organic things.

Physics is most useful in many practical applications. In the high school physics course an attempt is made to give each student an understanding and appreciation of the physical world through the study of heat, light, mechanics, and electricity.

ENGLISH

At least three years of English are required for graduation. Junior English may be substituted by a course in speech or two years of foreign language.

Sophomore English is the study of various types of American Literature and includes the foremost American writers and their representative literary masterpieces.

Junior English is a survey of World Literature and a study of the fundamentals for everyday usage.

Senior English course of study for the first semester is functional English, based on the "High School Handbook of Composition" by Wooley, Scott and Tressler. The second semester is a survey of Engglish Literature with emphasis on Elizabethan writers, the Victorian period, and Modern American and English writers.

Oral English: A semester of Oral English is required of all students before graduation. In special cases, a year's work in Speech may be obtained. Actual practice in speaking and interpretation is obtained, as well as training of the voice, a knowledge of the modern stage, and a brief history of drama.

Journalism is a course in the study of newswriting. The main activity consists of editing the "Blackhawk" every other week. Actual experience is gained in writing news articles, editorials, and mimeograph work.

MATHEMATICS

Algebra, geometry, and advanced mathematics are the different branches offered in the high school this year.

LATIN

Two years of Latin is offered in our curriculum. Latin or some other foreign language is an entrance requirement to most colleges. Latin helps to develop the mind, and aids in learning other languages.

DEBATE

Debate is offered for all high school students, and may be taken all three years, if desired. The cross-question, two-member, team method is employed as well as the traditional three-person team debating, both practice and contest.

Sixty-three seniors complete their high school sojourn this year and journey forth into new lines of endeavor. Wayne Tyler was selected as the class valedictorian and Orland Killin, salutatorian. The achievements of the class as a whole were outstanding. The individual accomplishments were many.

Athletics held a prominent place in the activities of the seniors. Orland Killin was named the most inspirational player on the football squad, with Clifford Presnell best blocker, and Glen Swegle best tackle. Betty Clancy and Virginia Ross, as yell leaders, kept up the school spirit of the student body during their high school careers.

Many seniors took a prominent part in the dramatic productions of "Guess Again," "Ghost of the Air" and "Beginner's Luck." Grace Gilbert, Anne Scheuch, Ray Bernard and Johnnie Cohagen had a very succesful year in debate and were charter members in the local chapter of the National Forensic League.

Virgil Garner was the delegate to the National F. F. A. convention in Kansas City, Missouri, and a member of the state stock judging team. Arthur Sunderland was the delegate in 1938, and a member of the stock judging team, placing third in the United States.

Margaret Grogan was president of the Eastern Washington Home Economics association this year. The convention was held in Cheney with the local club as hostess to the group.

The sextette, of which Anne Edgington and Marjorie Cutting are members, rated first in the District Music Meet. Marjorie placed second with her alto solo. Claude Murray, Harold Hodge, Wayne Tyler and Ben Cooper have also shown their outstanding musical ability.

Lucille Billesbach and Dell Cossalman were delegates to the annual Student Convention at Pullman. Orland Killin and Betty Clancy represented the class in their junior year.

Betty Ann Miller will be remembered for the excellence of her art work on the Blackhawk and Pine Cone. In the field of writing, Lucile Watt had the winning radio script, "Worse Than War," which was broadcast. She also won the local "Pioneers of Washington" contest.

Edna Shindler was chosen as an entrant in the "Daughters of the American Revolution" contest. Johnnie Cohagen and Lucille Billesbach were selected to speak at commencement, in addition to the valedictory and salutatory addresses.

As a lasting and worthy tribute to their memory, the seniors contributed the necessary amount to complete the purchase of the electric clock and score board for the gymnasium. And now, as they leave our high school, may their achievements continue and their successes be even greater!

The Graduate

Caps and gowns
Smiles and frowns
But hark, listen! Did I hear someone say?
"Shed not a tear on this glad day."

Mother and dad, sitting shy and proud
Hear daughter's name faintly
Above the crowd of friends and neighbors
Who have gathered to see
These young ones graduate, so full of glee.

Now their daughter has walked across the stage,
To her, she's at last turning the page
Of Life's great book filled with pages so pure and white;
Who can tell what will be her plight?

She has her diploma, oh what a treasure,
Twelve long years of grief and pleasure with schoolmates
and teachers—
It's been great fun—
But at last she has it,
Her diploma's won.

Life's great problems do arise
All around her from clear skies,
But even these she shall rule,
For she's an alumna of the Cheney High School.

Tell-a-Vision of 1950

"Time to tell and time to vision, presenting Charlie Chatawhile from the Cheney radio-television studio, who will relate to you what's wrong with the world and right with the graduates of '39 since WPA went out and left them jobless!"

Look! Flash!

Don Cooper, one time shover of spades, now dealer in hearts, running a dating bureau in Hollywood where Betty Clancy is doubling for Katherine Hepburn. Anne Scheuch is her wardrobe mistress.

Geraldine Brodin left holding the pen when the WPA secretaries went on a strike, now employed as private secretary to New York's popular lawyer, Johnnie Cohagen.

Lewis Denney—humorist over this station's Knit and Wit hour.

Mildred Williams, Marion Ballinger, Ruth Johnson and Virginia Garner are still trying to make prize-winning "flapjacks."

Grace Gilbert and Geneva Clark are running a day nursery in Marshall, where Franklin Johnson has just been elected Mayor to succeed George Clausen.

Arthur Sunderland and Claude Murray are running the Tyler City Dairy, where you may also see the pretty milkmaids, Betty Holloway, Viola Hoefner and Ethel Clissett.

Oh! Si! Si! Jack Humbert and Ben Cooper in Old Mexico serenading the senoritas.

Raymond Bernard having inherited his father's dental practice is grinding away on Prof. Carl Lyon's aching cuspids.

Jean Breeden and Bill Bander are happily married—but not to each other!

Marjorie Cutting in the Metropolitan Opera - - ushering.

Wayne Tyler plays the stock market but Elmer Matney has higher aims and has his "wad" on a nag running in the Santa Anita handicap.

Edna Shindler working as chief librarian for the College library.

Margaret Hair and Lucille Billesbach who have a dude ranch in the wilds of Four Lakes, have Harold Hodge as official guide and pitcher of woo.

Lucile Watt is writing scripts for N. B. C. where Glen Swegle and Kenneth Carter are working at the controls.

Special on hairdresses today. Hollywood salon — Norma Pederson and Virginia Johnson, operators.

Floyd Showalter is president of the Cheney Bank. Marjorie Cunningham is accountant for him.

Sally Randall (Mrs. Cliff Presnell). She and Cliff are living very happily out in the Harmony neighborhood.

Fred Steiner — Location man for M-G-M.

Virginia Ross still trying to decide who to marry after 15 proposals.

Bill Stiffler — Six-foot track star at W. S. C.

Elizabeth Dereberry competing with Fritz Kreisler in New York for first violin honors.

Virgil Garner running madly around in circles trying to set new track records.

Anne Edgington decides that she can't catch a man so she is writing the "Advice to the Lovelorn" column in the Spokane Daily Chronicle.

William Grogan has that worried look. He still drives the school bus for Cheney. His sister, Margaret, is chief cook and bottle washer at Grogan's Up-to-Date Tavern at Chapman lake.

Audrey Flowers is a model for the Ritzy Witzy Style Shoppe where Margaret Graham is head seamstress.

John Heath is signed up with the Boston Bees, as home run king.

We find Francis Lee finishing Senior English and Wayne Lundberg is still paying on his Chemistry Lab. fee.

Lois Harr is following the footlights of Broadway.

Orland Killin must have cold feet—he's now manager of a salmon cannery in Alaska.

Betty Ann Miller has just put Democracy on the rocks, having just finished Roosevelt's caricature.

Edith McMillan, nationally known research chemist, has found an organic substance.

James Painter and Marvin Plotts are animal trainers for the Kazolic Circus.

Dell Cossalman, still so enthralled as "Tony," now in Italy building gondolas.

Herbert Findley — Salesman for the Denver Rifle Co.

The radiant vision you saw announcing this program was none other than Radio Television's first lady, Maxine Carr.

Sponsored by the Junior Class, was the social highlight of the school year, the Junior Prom, when it was given in the high school gym Friday evening, April 28.

General chairmen for the Prom were Bernice Fitzner and Jack Spear. Directed by Miss Fryer, the decorations were planned and set in place by various committees.

The class was well represented in student affairs, with Bud Roach placing high in the stock judging contest and Jack Spear and Esthernel McCall as the delegates for the Junior class at the High School Convention at Pullman, Washington. Margaret Van Brunt has been outstanding in debate this year, being a member of the conference debate team.

Why I Go to School

If you expect to get a good job you need schooling from the first grade on up through several years of college. Everybody likes a good sport, so remember it and learn how to be one. Courtesy and kindness are helpful, and thrift is a gift to be retained. Be a good citizen and cooperate with your fellow citizens and workers.

Learn to use correct English, for it is essential anywhere and at any time. Your English knowledge helps in reading accurately; and by reading extensively you will get a knowledge of common things that other people know. You will learn, also, how to conduct yourself among other people.

Be able to understand and see things clearly and fairly. You will not be selfish and narrow if you try to do both of these things.

All these facts which I have pointed out are in my estimation, extremely important in living a happy life now and in the future. I feel that they are all very good reasons for going to school.

—Phyllis Edgington.

Troubles of Departing

Every time you pay a call, you have to leave sooner or later. Sometimes this is hard to do, but eventually you do leave. There are many obstacles which prevent you from leaving when you should. To do this let us assume that you are to make the first move.

There are several steps which must be taken to get out. First, you have to stand up. This is very essential as there is no other way to get out unless, you are carried out, which is not probable. Of course, you could stay. That step was very simple.

Second, you say goodbye. This is really only a matter of routine, because it isn't necessary to say goodbye, but if you don't you are sometimes thought very queer.

Third, you go to the door. Of course, you can go to the door before saying goodbye. You can use your own judgment about that. But getting to the door is rather hard to do, so, first move your feet, because you can't get there any other way. Maybe you will be asked to sit down again, but we'll say you don't.

Fourth, open the door. Sometimes you can't do this very well because your way is blocked. Maybe they have their hand on the knob. This may be done as you see fit, anyway open the door.

Fifth, walk out and away. Do not hesitate to do this because you might be asked to stay longer. Above all don't leave anything behind, but if you do happen to leave anything do not go back, you probably won't get away. Remember the most important thing is to get away!

Seasons of the Year

First of all there's Spring,
This much happiness doth bring;
On every strong and sturdy tree
The happy birds all sing with Glee.

Next comes Summer warm and bright,
You think of swimming with delight;
I think of ice cream and of punch:
We all go hiking in a bunch.

Then comes Fall,
Most colorful of all;
With red and gold leaves all around
Until they cover all the ground.

The next you probably all know,
Because there's lots of sleds and snow;
You think of Xmas and of gifts,
And have to plow through all the drifts.

Of all the seasons it's hard to choose,
Which of them I'd rather loose;
Though I do like some the best—
I could hardly do without the rest.

Minor Activities

Many opportunities are given at the Cheney high school for students to participate in the various minor activities.

The seventh annual high school Carnival was held in the gymnasium Friday, November 18, following a program, "Karnival Kapers of 1938," in the auditorium. Highlighting the program was the coronation of the Carnival Queen, Dorothy Spear. A net profit of $212.00 was reaped from the 18 concessions and the auditorium show.

The general management of the Carnival was under Miss Betty Mowery, Mr. Rex Gardner and Orland Killin.

Several oratorical contests were held this year. First place winners in these were "Pioneers of the State of Washington," Lucile Watt; "Americanism," Margaret Van Brunt; and "Jeffersonian," Grace Gilbert.

Pep assemblies, sponsored by each class, were held before the football and basketball games.. The pep club with six girls chosen from each class was inaugurated April of this year.

Some of the National Assembly programs presented were: "Eureka Singers," "Microcosmos" and "Glass Blowing." One Washington State Theater production was given. We had one exchange assembly with West Valley high school in which much talent was displayed.

Lucile Watt's radio script entitled, "Worse Than War," was broadcast over KFPY April 13. The cast included Marjorie Cutting, Grace Gilbert, Orland Killin, Jack Spear, Herbert Findley, Dave Casey, Bill Bander and Johnnie Cohagen.

The Melodian Theater presented two shows; "Marie Antoinette" and "Huckleberry Finn." Movie reels; "Trees and Men" and "Sugar," were shown in the auditorium.

A most successful project of the entire school and faculty with Miss Fryer and Miss Mowery as the general committee was the Open House held May 5.

The Home Economics club sponsored a program and Mother's tea for all the students' mothers, May 19.

These activities have always proved worthwhile in the school curriculum.

Dear Mary
Lots of Luck
Jean Bander.

The topic for debate in high schools this year was, "Resolved, That the United States should establish an alliance with Great Britain." The first semester, our high school entered the state contest, with the traditional method of debating. The six students who participated in the first semester's work, both practice and contest debates, were: Grace Gilbert, Anne Scheuch, Margaret Van Brunt, Ray Bernard, Johnnie Cohagen and John Bennett.

These students did very well this year, tying for second place in the Northeast District, by winning three out of four, or 75 per cent of their contest debates. These were with Rockford, Fairfield, and Ritzville. As a result of this accomplishment, these students entered the state debate tournament at Washington State college, Pullman, on January 28 and 29. Here, they tied for fourth place with Gonzaga and St. Joseph's Academy.

The second semester, several new students entered the debate class as beginners and will carry on the work next year. They are Carol Jones, Leona McAneny, Joyce Evans, Jack Spear, Morris Slavens, Bob Bernard, Paul Rozell and James Wilcox. This semester the cross-question method of debating with a two-speaker team was used, and eight practice debates were held with city schools on the Anglo-American alliance.

The school became a member of the National Forensic League last fall, and had five charter members this year. These students, Grace Gilbert, Ray Bernard, Margaret Van Brunt, Anne Scheuch and Johnnie Cohagen, attended the Northwest conference of the National Forensic League in Lewiston, Idaho, on April 27 and 28; entered both the debates and extemporaneous and original oratory contests.

Miss Mowery is the debate coach.

"Blackhawk"

The "Blackhawk," a Senior High production, edited twice monthly by the Journalism students, is named in honor of the athletic team's mascot. At each publication of the paper, Miss Betty Mowery, the supervisor, selects a new editor, which makes possible a complete change in the staff every time.

Many new ideas have been introduced in the "Blackhawk" this year —new headlines, student drawing and interview by the staff's artist, Betty Ann Miller, and a stencil editor, Dave Casey.

Grace Gilbert, outstanding journalist on our paper, also reports for of the Spokane Daily Chronicle.

Outstanding Journalism students were invited October 9, to John W. Graham's Journalism School to learn newer and more attractive ways of arranging a school paper.

The "Blackhawk" was entered in the National Scholastic Press association last year and received third class rating.

1939 Seniors' days in Cheney high school will soon be ended. In this, our annual, we hope to have recorded the many experiences and achievements that will remain in the minds of the associated students as days not spent in vain.

A new type of paper, gaining world wide use for annuals, is used for the pages of our annual. It is guaranteed not to curl.

The airplane on the cover, symbolizes high ideals which should be the aim of every high school student. The advancement of today's youth is the theme.

We wish to acknowledge the assistance of Lois Harr working with Betty Ann Miller on the block prints; and also Sally Randall who helped with Senior articles.

The publication of this annual was made possible only through the cooperation of the faculty and the staff. We thank Christian's Studio and Mr. Beall for their help and cooperation on this edition.

Class Will

Having arrived at the highest point of mental inefficiency and physical disablement, we, the seniors of '39, wish to will these undesirable qualities to the sophomore class:

To the junior class we leave our coveted "invitations," and our tardy slips.

With tearful regrets, we leave our innumerable souvenirs of treasured assignments to the teachers.

Lucille Billesbach wills her "Spear" to that vamp, Shirley Slavens.

Ray Bernard, Herbert Findley and Dell Cossalman (the Three Horsemen), will their "ponies" to Juniors wishing to gallop through English or History next year.

Geraldine Brodin wills her efficient ways to Phyllis Edgington.

Bill Bander leaves his heart to Faye (if she doesn't have it already).

Maxine Carr bequeaths her "stand-pat" Republican views and expressions to Norma Fish.

James Painter wills the "right punch" or the "old one-two" to Bud Roach.

Betty Clancy sorrowfully (?) gives up her C. V. boys to Marilyn Newton for ALL of next year.

Ben Cooper wills those big brown eyes to James Raney.

Betty Ann Miller wills her true artistic ability to Doris Albin.

Virgil Garner leaves the "50-yard dash" and the "broad jump" to next year's track boys.

Virginia Garner and Geneva Clark leave their positions in Cheney high school open to whoever gets there first.

Carter, Clausen, Lee and Heath, will that pet corner in Study Hall to anyone wishing to "cram" next year.

Margaret Grogan and Betty Holloway will that "intelligent expression" appearing in History to Donna Priest and Thelma Spear.

Orland Killin bequeaths his "to home from S. Hall" slips to Richard Hays.

Mildred Williams wills her dainty feet to Madelon Bair.

Wayne Lundberg bestows his curly hair on Bob Bernard.

Virginia Ross wills that swing at play hour to Rita Smith.

Don Cooper leaves his girlish ways to George Krsak.

Claude Murray wills his seat in the Iceberg to Bob Horn.

Edna Shindler leaves her "come-hither" eyes to Fritz Schneider.

Harold Hodge wills his knowledge of possessive case (in English you understand) to Bob Roth.

Marjorie Cunningham and Elizabeth Dereberry, with sighs of relief, release their blushes to Monte Smith and Mary Jean Iverson.

William Grogan and Fred Steiner will their "back-stage duties" to Pete Montague and Bill Crooks.

Jean Breeden vacates her place in 306 for anyone capable of getting it.

Lewis Denny bequeaths his "professional manner" to Jim Balfe.

Grace Gilbert wills her way of "flitting here and there with her pet expression, 'Any news'? to Leona McAneny.

Franklin Johnson wills his way with the ladies to Floyd Hubbard.

Margaret Graham gives up her "Mann" to Stella Hartmeier.

Elmer Matney wills his "Roaming Romeo" ways to Vincent Moore.

Jack Humbert leaves his guitar and romantic yodeling for Betty Rupp.

Lois Harr wills her ability to be "always on time" to Margaret Van Brunt.

Marvin Plotts will his "brazeness" to Richard Hays.

Ruth Johnson and Virginia Johnson will that unusual last name to oncoming students (Jay, Velma, Edna, etc.).

Cliff Presnell wills "Lady Marion" to Verne Straughan.

Edith McMillan leaves her charming dimples to Pete Presta.

Bus Showalter wills that winning smile to Sterling Braaten.

Norma Pederson bestows her roller-skating ability on Neal Hubbard.

Art Sunderland wills his chubbiness to Ruby Morrow.

Sally Randall wills her sunny disposition to some "clabber kitty" who really needs it.

Lucile Watt bequeaths her creative writing ability to Eunice Pederson.

Marjorie Cutting wills her golden alto voice to Eleanor Rupp.

Glen Swegle leaves his bumps and bruises received in football to James Benscotter.

Marion Ballinger says she has nothing left to will, so you can have what you can get, (good cook, farmer's wife, etc.).

Minor Activities

The annual Junior Prom, semi-formal dance, was held April 28, with music furnished by the College orchestra, "The Eight Cats." The spring motif was used in decorations, with raindrops as a lowered ceiling and a flower garden in the center of the floor. The Senior Strut was held February 17 and the Sophomore Hop on March 3. All these social events proved very entertaining.

There are five schools in Spokane county which held a series of Play Days for high school girls. Cheney was hostess November 9 to girls from Latah, Otis Orchards, Medical Lake and Rockford. All types of sports, a program, dinner, and dancing furnished entertainment. Similar Play Days were held at Newman Lake, with Otis Orchards as hostess, and at Latah and Medical Lake. A special Basketball Play Day and Tea, with Ritzville as guests, was held here January 27. Ruth Johnson and Edna Shindler were delegates to the College Play Day at W. S. C., Pullman, February 25, and several girls attended the Play Day at the local College January 28.

The baseball boys held their benefit dance the night of April 14 in the gymnasium. A large crowd attended as this was the week end of the Music Meet.

Lucille Billesbach and Dell Cossalman, seniors, and Esthernel McCall and Jack Spear, juniors, were delegates to the Student Leaders' conference which was held at Pullman the week end of April 22. They all told of their most enjoyable trip at a student body assembly. Miss Mason and Mr. Hodge accompanied them.

The Cheney Home Economics club was hostess on March 25 to the annual Eastern Washington district convention of student clubs. Margaret Grogan, president of the organization, presided.

Wayne Tyler, valedictorian of this year's graduating class, will receive a scholarship for a quarter's room rent in the dormitory at the Eastern Washington College of Education, and for a semester's room rent at the State College of Washington. Should he not use these scholarships, they may be passed on to the salutatorian, Orland Killin.

The activities of the various judging teams of the Agriculture department have been numerous. Virgil Garner, Clifford Presnell and James Painter, with Robert Roach and Kenneth Tiedt as alternates, placed second at Walla Walla and fifth among Washington teams in the Pacific International contest at Portland. Virgil Garner made the Washington State team and had his way paid to Kansas City, Missouri, to judge in the National contest. Robert Roach advanced to the highest F. F. A. degree, State Farmer, at Pullman. Earl Hilton, Robert Roach and George Krsak placed fourth in Spokane and James Raney, Earl Hilton and Bud Roach ranked sixth at W. S. C.

All-School Play

"Ghost of the Air," a mystery comedy in three acts by Robert St. Clair, was presented at three performances, Thursday and Friday evenings, December 15 and 16, at 8:00 o'clock and Friday afternoon at 1:30.

The entire action of the play occurred in the combination announcer's office and reception room of Radio Station KOX in a small eastern city. The radio announcer was mysteriously murdered, which led to many complicated situations, both amusing and exciting.

Contrary to former years, there were two casts. Thursday: Herbert Findley, Anne Edgington, Bill Bander, David Casey, Virginia Ross, Margaret Van Brunt, Marjorie Cutting, Bob Bernard, Francis Lee, Lucille Billesbach, Margaret Hair, Jim Balfe, Phyllis Edgington and Audrey Flowers. Friday: Orland Killin, Grace Gilbert, Sterling Braaten, Claude Murray, Dorothy Spear, Marilyn Newton, Lois Harr, Bill Crooks, Johnnie Cohagen, Betty Clancy, Eleanor Robb, Jack Spear, Lorraine Dilley and Maxine Carr.

The following people worked on the technical staff: Arthur Sunderland, Fred Steiner, Morris Slavens, Bob Horn, Jack Humbert, Bruce Ebert, Ray Bernard, Donna Priest, Monty Smith, Irene Benton, Mary Jean Iverson, Carol Jones, Madelon Bair, Dorothy Frasier, Virginia Garner, Joyce Evans, Shirley Slavens, Floyd Showalter, Betty Holloway, Lucile Watt, Esthernel McCall, Franklin Johnson, Sally Randall, Ruth Van Brunt, Edith McMillan, Jay Johnson, Betty Anne Miller, Bud Heath, Leona McAneny, Dorothy Ebert, Faye Detillian, Margaret Rosenzweig, Betty Thurman, Bernice Fitzner, Valdean Guertin, Pat Clancy, Madelon Bair, Jean Rogers, Marietta Billesbach, Mildred Grein, Eunice Pederson, Irma Schmidt, Margaret Grogan, Ruby Morrow and Maxine Carr.

The play was under the direction of Miss Betty Mowrey.

Senior Play

"Beginner's Luck," a three-act farce by Glenn Hughes, was presented in the auditorium Thursday afternoon, May 11, and Friday evening, May 12, as the Senior Class play. Miss Betty Mowery, dramatics instructor, directed the production.

The plot involved four girls who went to New York to develop their careers. They were unsuccessful, but had written encouraging letters home to their parents in Falls City. Complications arose, when the editor of the society column in the "Falls City Echo," paid them a visit. They posed as successful co-eds, and much to their surprise, through the help of a mysterious character, Mr. X, each of the girls' dreams were realized and all were given positions. The cast was well chosen, and this farce proved very interesting to the audience; one of the largest to attend a senior play here in recent years.

The cast included Lucille Billesbach Betty Clancy, Lois Harr, Virginia Ross, Harold Hodge, Claude Murray, Grace Gilbert, Bill Bander, Dell Cossalman, Johnnie Cohagen, Marjorie Cutting, Margaret Hair, Maxine Carr, Ray Bernard, and Herbert Findley.

The technical staff was composed of Fred Steiner, Bill Grogan, Bill Stiffler, James Painter, Jack Humbert, Francis Lee, Orland Killin, Edna Shindler, Geraldine Brodin, Virginia Garner, Margaret Grogan, Margaret Graham, Sally Randall, Edith McMillan, Lewis Denney, Franklin Johnson, Floyd Showalter, Betty Holloway, Lucile Watt, Betty Ann Miller, Anne Scheuch, Mildred Williams, Jean Breeden, Viola Hoefner, and the art and advanced commercial classes.

Thespians were very active the past year. To commemorate National Drama Week, during February, the new members gave an assembly consisting of dramatic skits and readings. The high school band consists of Betty Rupp, Iris Hoefner, Sterling Braaten, Claude Murray, David Casey, Anne Scheuch, Geraldine Brodin, Bob Horn, Bruce Ebert and Edwin Tallyn, and is assisted by a few other brass and wind instrument players for football and basketball games and pep assemblies.

Although there are only eight members in the regular High School band, there are 24 beginning players in the Junior High, together with several experienced band instrument students who are expected to form the main body of next year's band.

Patriotism a la Mode

In fourteen hundred and ninety-two,
Columbus sailed the ocean blue—
To find a land beyond the sea
All full of peace and liberty.

A man named John Smith came along
With fifty men, all in a throng.
There wasn't a woman, though by Gee
In this first English Colony.

In 1619 they were told
They needed ninety maidens bold,
To sail away across the sea
And live in Jamestown colony.

Before the Mayflower went ashore,
A Compact then was drawn up for
Any man who thought that he Could smear our Land of Liberty.

William Penn was truly great,
Against slavery he showed his hate,
With Indians he was always fair;
His dealings with them always square.

Oglethorpe—a blessing was he
In founding the Georgia colony,
To debtors, criminals, and the like
He offered work to save their plight.

Washington, our first president,
A courageous leader, Heaven sent.
He set the country on its feet
While serving in the Nation's seat.

Lincoln, too, of humble birth,
Gave his life and showed his worth
By fighting for the cause he gave:
"Freedom for the lowly slave!"

Brave men all and patriots true,
These men are, I've brought to you.
Did they turn back when things looked bad?
No! They then gave all they had.

Could we not like them be true,
As patriots of this country free?
Show our colors as true blue
In this blest Land of Liberty.

—Franklin Johnson.

Prayer of a Sportsman

Dear Lord, in the battle that goes on through life,
I ask but a field that is fair,
A chance that is equal with all in the strife,
A courage to strive and to dare.
And if I should win, let it be by the code,
With my faith and my honor held high;
And if I should lose, let me stand by the road
And cheer as the winners go by.

And Lord, may my shouts be ungrudging and clear,
A tribute that comes from the heart,
And let me not cherish a snarl or a sneer,
Or play any sniveling part.
Let me say, "There they ride, on whom laurels bestowed,
Since they played the game better than I."
Let me stand with a smile by the side of the road
And cheer as the winners go by.

So grant me to conquer, if conquer I can,
By proving my worth in the fray,
But teach me to lose like a regular man,
And not like a craven, I pray.
Let me take off my hat to the warriors who strode
To victory, splendid and high;
Yea, teach me to stand by the side of the road—
And cheer as the winners go by!

—Berton Braley

Dear Marcy:

Here's wishing you & Johnny lots of luck, happiness & success in the future.

Basketball

The Blackhawks were tamed several times during the season, but were allowed sufficient opportunity to sharpen their claws to win three games and come within six points of winning seven other contests.

Playing in a league with plenty of stiff competition the Blackhawk quintet earned the reputation of being a scrappy, hard fighting unit.

One of the features at the games this season was the electric scoreboard, purchased by classes of '38 and '39. With the large clock, automatic score, and time indicator, it adds greatly to the enjoyment of the game. We make a boast that it is one of the finest in the Pacific Northwest.

The players seeing action on the A squad were Montague, Hodge, Heath, Stiffler, Swegle, Kennedy, Rozell, Johnson, Bernard, Sunderland. Those seeing plenty of action and to be depended upon for next year's squad are Balfe, Goetchius, Horn, Presnell, Morris and Slavens.

Games were played with the following:

Medical Lake	2	Central Valley	3
Endicott	2	Mead	2
St. John	2	Ritzville	1
Harrington	2	Sprague	1
West Valley	2	Fairfield	1

Football

With about 40 boys turning out during the new practice period and a decisive win over Ritzville by a score of 18 to 0 in the first game, hopes were not in vain for a successful season. These hopes were blasted when in the second game, the team was hit by many injuries. Dogged by these injuries, the team was not able to muster full strength again until the last game when the big Mead team was beaten by a score 7 to 0 on a snow covered field.

Cheney played in a league which included Central Valley, West Valley and Mead. A "double-round-robin" plan was carried out in which each team played the other teams in the league, two games each. These schools have always fielded strong teams and this year, the Blackhawks' schedule was an especially tough one.

Boys making their letters this year were Balfe, Cossalman, Crooks, Findley, Hodge, Johnston, Killin, Lee, G. Lundberg, Mabe, Montague, C. Presnell, Roach. Rozell and Swegle.

Others on the squad included Bafus, Baker, Benscotter, R. Bernard, Brodin, Conley, Garner, Harr, Heath, Hill, F. Hubbard, Miller, Morris, Moore, Pederson, Pierce, Plotts, T. Presnell, Samuels, Schneider, Spear, Stevenson and Oster.

The three boys whose names will be inscribed on the Red "C" club plaque for the best blocker, tackler, and the most inspirational player, are: Clifford Presnell, Glen Swegle and Orland Killin, respectively.

The Schedule:

Cheney	18	Ritzville	0
Cheney	0	Central Valley	19
Cheney	0	Mead	12
Cheney	0	West Valley	19
Cheney	0	West Valley	19
Cheney	0	Central Valley	18
Cheney	7	Mead	0

Heres wishing you luck
with Johny.

Tennis

The tennis group had practice tennis meets at Lewis and Clark, at Central Valley, and Otis Orchards. These practices proved most profitable to the entire tennis group.

In the school tennis tournament the girls' winners were Marietta Billesbach, Madelon Bair and Shirley Slavens. The boys' winners were Harry Kennedy, Bob Horn, Wayne Tyler and Claude Murray. These seven people were entered in the County tennis tournament at Central Valley May 19. Harry Kennedy, a first-year sophomore singles player, won the honor of playing in the finals against the West Valley high school's player. Wayne and Claude won their first match in boys' doubles, while Bob Horn played a close second to Harry Kennedy in boys' singles. The girls, all first-year sophomores, gave their opponents a good match and we expect much from them next year.

Second row: Harry Kennedy, Claude Murray, Wayne Tyler, Bill Bander, Bob Horn and Miss Bair.

Girls' Sports

In the girls' physical education classes there is a direct application of much of the health information. Good posture and posture exercises are practiced also for the health rule. They offer opportunities for a shower after exercises, and the use of deodorants.

The girls are taught many games. The couple games, such as badminton, tennis, deck tennis, ping pong, croquet and shufle board, as well as the team games, of which volleyball, basketball and baseball are the best examples.

Many of these are used as leisure time activities as well as giving muscular development and coordination.

Baseball

Showing the form they really possessed, the Cheney Hi baseball team wound up the season with a win over Otis Orchards by a score of 9 to 5. Taking three games out of six, the Cheney aggregation was the one to beat all the way through. Montague carried the brunt of the work on the mound.

Bill Crooks caught one on the finger, breaking it, and was retired from the lineup for most of the season.

The lineup was as follows: Catcher: Heath, Lundberg, Morris; pitcher: Montague; first base: R. Bernard; second base: Balfe, Moore; third base: Goetchius; short: Stiffler; left field: Bob Bernard, Tallyn; center field: Sunderland, Findley; right field: Crooks, Tommy Presnell, Cossalman, Owens. Managers: Benscotter, Hays. Coaches: Dubb Myers, Patsy Frank. Faculty adviser: Rex Gardner.

Games per schedule:

Cheney	1	Deer Park	7
Cheney	2	Mead	3
Cheney	21	Otis Orchards	1
Cheney	2	Deer Park	4
Cheney	8	Mead	6
Cheney	9	Otis Orchards	5

Boxing

Winning three, losing one, and drawing three, the Cheney Boxing team closed a successful season after meeting seven schools in competition.

Meeting St. John first, the team won three, lost two and drew two. Central Valley also went down in defeat when Cheney won four and lost three. Next to be vanquished was Ritzville, going down before the onslaught of the Glove Brigade. Cheney netted four wins, two loses, and two draws. In a return meet with Ritzville, Cheney hit the skids and as a result Ritzville went to town by taking four bouts and tying the matches four-all. In quick revenge, the Central Valley team next beat Cheney with five wins, two loses, and three draws. Spangle was sufficiently strong to hold the local boys to two draws.

Track

Closing the season at the Northeast District Track and Field meet, the Cheney Tracksters ended a semi-successful season with three boys, Fred Steiner, John Mabe and Virgil Garner, participating in the "A" division. Two places were nabbed by Cheney when Mabe ran a beautiful 880-yard run to take a second and Virgil Garner ran the mile to land in the fourth bracket.

Placing third in the Spokane County Meet held at Central Valley, Friday, May 12, with a total of 17 points, 11 boys made letters. Three of the tracksters, Fred Steiner, Bud Roach and Virgil Garner, earned second-year letters. First-year lettermen are Don Cooper, Ben Cooper, George Clausen, John Mabe, Bill Bander, John Brodin and Jack Horstman. Other boys not placing in the County Meet, but showing speed and improvement, were Chris Oster, Bill Cycowski, Floyd Hubbard, Archie Conley, Lynn Samuels, James Painter and Max Pierce.

The squad participated in the Roger's-Ritzville Relay and Tri-State meets as well as the County and District meets.

The Red "C" club, Cheney High's honorary boys' athletic organization, again proved to be a live wire functioning group of boys. They gave several play hours which proved very successful, as a result of good management.

This year the boys have completed the Constitution of their organization. A document of this sort is vital to the smooth running of a club and will prove very useful to the oncoming lettermen.

The Red "C" club sponsored four good smokers. These smokers were exciting and proved worth while financially also. The boys were instrumental in making the Baseball Benefit Dance a highlight of the year. They also worked very hard on the Carnival.

Second row: Wayne Lundberg, Virgil Garner, Pete Montague, Herbert Findley, Dell Cassalman, Bill Crooks, Francis Lee, Mr. Fisher, adviser.

Third row: Fritz Schneider, John Mabe, Glenn Swegle, Ray Bernard, Richard Hayes, Johnnie Cohagen, Jay Johnson.

Fourth row: Art Sunderland, Cliff Presnell, Bud Roach, Chris Oster.

Girls' "C" Club

The Girls' "C" club, organized in 1936, has been very active this year in carrying out its aims of promoting more active interest in sports and other school activities.

Under the point system established last year whereby any girl earning 500 points in sports becomes a member, many new members were initiated. The club sponsored two play days and two assembly programs during the year. Lucille Billesbach was their candidate for Carnival Queen. They also sold candy at both football and basketball games. As a part of their initiation, the initiates entertained the older members at dinner.

Six girls, having earned 500 additional points other than those needed for membership, were presented gold basketballs at the close of the year. They were Virginia Ross, Betty Clancy, Lucille Billesbach, Marjorie Cutting, Margaret Hair and Anne Edgington.

Choosey

The hired girl had been sent down to the brook to fetch a pail of water, but stood gazing at the flowing stream apparently lost in thought.

"What's she waiting for?" asked her mistress who was watching.

"Dunno," wearily replied her husband, "perhaps she hasn't seen a pailful she likes."

A Good Neighbor

Mr. Cutting—Did you know that I am sending my daughter abroad to study singing?

Jim Balfe—No. I didn't, but it is very thoughtful of you.

Born Before His Time

The scene was a Hollywood film studio. Thousands of extras, dressed as French revolutionists, were storming the Bastile.

In the foreground, on a rostrum, was the director, bawling through a megaphone:

"We're going to do this over and over again — until the guy shouting 'whoopee' decides to cooperate."

Herb Findley—I am always tired on the first of April.

Ray Bernard—Why?

Herb—Who wouldn't be after a March of 31 days?

Give Her Time

Bill Bander — I guess you've gone out with worse looking fellows than me, haven't you?

Bill—I say, I guess you've gone out with worse looking fellows than me, haven't you?

Fay Detillian—I heard you the first time. I was just trying to remember.

Harry Kennedy — Phew! It's awful hot for spring.

Bob Horn — You ought to be thankful it's no worse. S'pose we lived in Arkansas. Wouldn't that be awful?

Harry—Arkansas? Why?

Bob — You'd better study your geography lesson. The geography says Arkansas is famous for its hot springs.

As soon as the traveling salesman entered the office, said the manager hurriedly, "I am sorry, but I cannot see you today."

Harold Hodge: "Well, it's lucky I called here. I represent a firm of spectacle makers."

Excerpt from one of Mr. Hodge's sophomore English papers: "A semicolon is a period sitting on top of a coma. Some think that the first time a semicolon was used was when some man did not know whether to use a comma or a period, so he used both of them together.

Costly

Old Lady—Son, can you direct me to the Cheney Bank?

Edwin Tallyn—Yessum, for a quarter.

Old Lady—Isn't that pretty high pay, my child?

Edwin—No, ma'am, not for a bank director.

The Right Congregation

"Folks," said the colored minister, "the subject of my sermon dis even' am 'Liars.' How many in de congregation has done read the sixty-ninth chapter of Matthew?"

Nearly every hand in the audience was raised immediately.

"Dat's right," said his reverence, "you is just de folks I want to preach to. Der is no sixty-ninth chapter of Matthew."

Directions

The Cheney band practice was in full swing, but something had gone wrong. The conductor glared at the drummer.

"Why on earth did you leave off playing just as we got to the chorus?"

"Well," returned Harry Kennedy, "on my music it says 'Refrain,' so I did."

Satisfied

Glenn MacClain — Be this the Woman's Exchange?

Woman—Yes.

Glenn—Be ye the woman?

Woman—Yes.

Glenn—Then I think I'll keep Maggie.

Bright Face of Danger

Big Game Hunter—Oh, yes, I've been nearly eaten by lions many a time, but life without a little risk, would be very tame.

George Clausen—I agree! Many times when the weather has seemed doubtful, I have deliberately gone without my umbrella.

Claude M.: "Say, Johnnie, can I borrow your pen?"

"Sure thing."

"Got a sheet of writing paper I can use?"

"Reckon so."

"Going past the mail box when you go out?"

"Uh-huh."

"Wait a minute 'till I finish this leter, will you?"

"All right."

"Want to lend me a stamp?"

"Yeh."

"Much obliged. Say. what's your girl's address?"

A sergeant was drilling the recruit squad in the use of the rifle. Everything went smoothly until blank cartridges were distributed. The recruits were instructed to load their guns and stand at "ready," and then the sergeant gave the command, "Fire at will."

One recruit lowered his gun. "Which one is Will?" he asked.

Phyllis Edgington—It must be nice to own a chain of stores.

David Casey—Yes; you can spend all your money on the links.

One man who's turned a lot of women's heads is the barber.

A sensible girl is not so sensible as she looks because a sensible girl has more sense than to look sensible.

"There's a patient in my ward that hasn't made love to me."

"One of mine is still unconscious, too."

A Junior Boy—Nobody will be the wiser if I kiss you.

A Junior Girl—Then don't kiss me. I'm after an education.

"Best girl I saw you with last night?"

"Necks best."

Marcie—That bashful boy friend of mine is a G-man.

Helen B.—A government man?

Marcie—No. All he can say is "gee!"

"I want you to say "ah-h-h-h-," said the doctor.

Dorothy Spear—So do a dozen other would-be Romeos.

Mr. Hodge was giving the next day's assignment. "Blaine," he said, "I want you to compose a short essay in which you will tell me something about every day in the week." The next day Blaine handed in this essay: "Monday I killed a deer and there was meat enough to last over Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday."

Fee Splitting

Lady—I guess you're getting a good thing o' tending the rich Smith boy, ain't ye, doctor?

Doctor—Well, yes; I get a pretty good fee. Why?

Lady—Well I hope you won't forget that my Willie threw that brick that hit him.

So There!

The other day the head of a boarding school noticed one of the boys wiping his knife on the tablecloth, and pounced on him.

"Is that what you do at home?" he asked indignantly.

"Oh, no," answered the boy quickly, "we have clean knives."

No Parking Aloud

Mistress — I saw the milkman kiss you this morning, Jane. I'll take the milk in myself after this.

Jane—It won't do you no good, Mum. He promised not to kiss nobody but me.

In Bad Company

Jack Morris — Why are those cops watching that revolving door?

Granville Owen—I hear it's because it has been going around with the wrong kind of people.

The Reverend B. C. Gamble of Huntington, West Virginia, had occasion to observe the prowess of mosquitos in Georgia. One night a number of the insects got into his room. He took a candle and went around burning them. He got them all except one big ferocious fellow that seemed to be the leader. He cornered that one and held the candle under it, but the skeeter just turned around and blew out the candle.

"Are you Bill Peterson," said the young man beside the hat rack.

"No," was the surprised reply.

"Well, I am," came the frosty rejoinder, "and that is his hat you are putting on."

Maxine Carr—I gave up a pint of blood when I was in the country last summer.

What He Needed

Mountaineer (taking son to school room) — My boy's after larn'n. What have you got?

Teacher—We offer arithmetic, English, trigonometry, spelling, etc.

Moutaineer — Just give him a shot of some of that thar triggernomerty; he is the worst shot in the family.

No Trump

The landlady brought in a plateful of extremely thin slices of bread and butter, which rather dismayed her hungry men boarders.

"Did you cut these, Mrs. Brown? asked one.

"Yes, I cut them," came the stern reply.

"Oh," went on the boarder. "All right; I'll shuffle."

Morals Don't Count

Officer's Cook—Isn't it a good bird, Sir?

Colonel — It may have been—morally, but physically, it's tough!

Bill Crooks—Say, what's the idea of your wearing my raincoat?

Granville Owens — Well, you wouldn't want your new suit to get wet, would you?

Inquiring Son—Daddy, what effect does the moon have on the tide?

Dad (from the depths of his newspaper)—Not any, son, only on the untied.

Two of the sophomore boys were discussing the economic situation. One of them remarked: "It sure is too bad, ain't it, that this depression had to come just when times is so hard."

Take Heed

A college student had failed to pass an important examination. Wishing to break the news gently to his parents, he sent the following telegram to his older brother: "Have failed to pass exam. Prepare father."

The brother wired: "Father prepared. Prepare yourself."

Johnnie Cohagen—Yes, and very well told.

That Explains It

"Oh, what a strange looking cow," exclaimed the sweet young thing from Chicago. "But why hasn't she any horns?"

"Well, you see," explained the farmer, "some cows is born without horns, and others shed theirs, and some we dehorn, and some breeds ain't supposed to have horns at all. There's a lot of reasons why some cows ain't got horns, but the reason why that cow ain't got horns is because she ain't a cow—she's a horse."

Housewifely Dilemma

"I don't know what to make of my husband," said the cannibal queen.
"Have you tried this recipe?" asked her dearest friend.

Trees

I think that I shall never see along the road an unscraped tree, with bark intact, and painted white, that no car ever hit at night. For every tree that's near the road has caused some auto to be towed. Side-swiping trees is done a lot by drivers who are plumb half shot. God gave them eyes so they might see, yet any fool can hit a tree.

What's Par?

Jim Balfe—Did you read about the fellow who beat his wife with a golf club?

Dave Casey—No, how many strokes?

Some Failure!

"Crop failure?" asked the old timer. "Yep, I've seen a lot of 'em in my day. Now in 1884 the corn crop was purt nigh nothing. We cooked some corn for dinner one day and paw ate 14 acres at one meal!"

The Reason

An old farmer and his wife were driving along a country road through hilly country. The team, when they came to a hill, would settle into the collar and pull at a steady stride.

The farmer's wife said, "Hiram, I have just been thinking, watching this team settle in the collar and pull steadily along, how wonderful it would be if we could go through life that way."

"Maria," he replied, "possibly we could if we were like this team with only one tongue between us."

First Maried Man—Are you ever allowed to say anything at home?

Second — Yes, on Saturday nights.

First—And what are you allowed to say?

Second—Here's my pay check, darling.

"Yes, Baby, I'll be a success in life as soon as I gain a foothold."

"Are you a lawyer?"

"No, a chiropodist."

A Soft Answer

At a reception in Washington, a young man was asked by a widow to guess her age.

"You must have some idea," she said as he hesitated.

"I have several ideas," he admitted with a smile. "The only trouble is that I hesitate whether to make you 10 years younger on account of your looks, or 10 years older on account of your brains."

A carpenter was shingling a barn when a dense fog came up. The carpenter kept on working and laying his shingles. When the fog cleared, he discovered that he had shingled 12 feet beyond the barn.

A mother may hope that her daughter will get a better husband than she did, but she knows that her son will never get as good a wife as his father did.

Lucille Billesbach—The man I marry must be brave as a lion, but not nervy; handsome as a Greek god, but not conceited; wise as Solomon, but meek as a lamb—a man who is kind to every woman, but who loves only me.

Jack Spear — Gee, wasn't it a strange coincidence that we met?

Lecture upon a rhinoceros. Mr. Pierson began his introduction: "I must ask you to give me your undivided attention. It is absolutely impossible that you can form a true idea of this hideous animal, unless you keep your eyes fixed on me."
